AN ADDRESS

Delivered at Schellsburg, July 4, 1867, BY B. F. MEYERS.

[CORRESPONDENCE.]

SCHELLSBURG, July 9, 1867.

B. F. MEYERS, ESQ.:—Dear Sir:—Will you do us the favor, to furnish us for publication, a copy of your address delivered at this place, on the fourth inst., and oblige,

Yours Truly,

JNO. S. SCHELL, J. J. CLARKE, J. E. BLACK, PETER DEWALT, BURTON EDSALL, D. W. MULLIN, W. J. MULLIN, A. J. SNIVELY.

BEDFORD, July 10, 1867.

GENTLEMEN:—Your favor of yesterday requesting a copy of the address delivered by me at Schellsburg, on the 4th inst., is before me. I cheerfully comply with your request, and herewith place the address at your disposal.

Respectfully Yours,
B. F. MEYERS.

To Messrs. SCHELL, EDSALL, CLARKE, MULLIN, and others.

ADDRESS.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—We celebrate this day as the anniversary of that Independence which was the foundation of the American Republic. We rejoice that our colonial ancestors possessed the intelligence and virtue to resist tyranny, and that the Supreme Ruler of the Universe crowned with success their struggle for Liberty. Nor is our rejoicing but empty show,—the noise and riot of senseless revelry, the sounding brass and tinkling cymbals of an unreasoning adoration of human greatness; it is the simple but earnest expression of our homage to Liberty and our veneration for the memory of those who established it throughout our land. The occasion, too, reminds us that we are to imitate the virtues of the men to whom the lustre of this day owes all its brightness and glory; that we are not merely to rejoice over what has been and is, but to look forward with unclouded, truth-searching eyes toward that which is to be; and, above all, that we are to see to it that the fabric of government erected by the founders of the Republic be preserved intact to posterity. Thus solemnly reminded of our duty we look back to that period, "grand, gloomy and peculiar," in which the old bell of the Philadelphia State House, proclaimed Liberty to the tax-ridden and misgoverned people of the colonies. The story of the Revolution is familiar to all. The burden of British oppression had become too heavy to be borne and the colonists took up arms to resist the execution of the odious enactments of Parliament. This war of resistance to the British Tax-laws, was waged about fifteen months, when the Colonial Congress, assembled at Philadelphia, adopted and promulgated the Declaration of Independence, and thenceforward it became a war for the establishment of a separate government.

The difficulties which surrounded the Revolutionists, the sufferings endured by the little band of patriots which during seven years of rapine and carnage grappled with the power of Britain, solemnly teach us that our freedom was dearly bought and that we should consider it as a boon of priceless worth. And, indeed, how can we revert to the story of Lexington and Bunker Hill, or look, in fancy, upon the flames of burning Charlestown, how can we think of Valley Forge and King's Mountain, or remember Marion and his men, without feeling that we should surrender all, even life itself, rather than suffer the destruction of the institutions bequeathed to us by the patriot fathers? How can we study the history of the early times of our Republic and learn that it was born amid the shock of civil convulsion, baptized in the blood of the noblest and best of that age, and reared under the tutelage of the wisest and greatest men the world has produced, and not resolve to guard it as the very ark of the covenant of Liberty?

The true lover of our form of government, is attached by the blessings it confers, with cords of imperishable affection, to its principles and institutions. He needs not be told that those who founded it, passed through the fiery ordeal of revolution; he needs not be reminded of the valor, the fortitude and the self-denial of its authors; he knows it to be as nearly perfect as any system ever devised by man, and accepts and defends it with that wholeheartedness and singleness of purpose which always characterize the sincere patriot. But there are those whom neither the example of the men of the Revolution, nor the advantages conferred by our government, can reconcile to its continued existence. The spirit of innovation stalks throughout the land, and men fall down and worship it as a god! Its brazen image has been set up in the Temple of Liberty and in the very holy of holies incense is burned before this strange deity. But the iconoclasts will come and the idol will be broken in pieces. Let us take care, however, that in the storm of evil passions, the temple itself be not pulled down. Let us read with profit the lessons of history, so that ours may not be the fate of the Amphyctionic Council, or the Achaian League, but that brighter and more glorious than the splendor of Republican Greece, or Rome, may be the record of the Republic of America. Let us be true to the nature and spirit of our government, and no Macedonian fraud shall ever rob us of our liberties, no Cesar cross the Rubicon of our Republicanism. But it cannot be that in the light of those historic examples afforded by the decay and downfall of the ancient Republics, we, too, shall lapse into those fatal errors which proved their destruction. It cannot be that lust for conquest, greed of power, the tyranny of majorities, or the turbulence of faction, will be permitted to add America to the catalogue of ruined Commonwealths. History gives us an apocalyptic glimpse of what may be our future. We could not, if we would, shut our eyes and refuse to see our possible fate. We are compelled to look upon it, and surely we will not deliberately walk into peril so vividly revealed. Besides, the divine warmth of Christian philosophy has tempered the human heart, and we are better adapted to the mild government of a Republic than those who lived in the cold light of Pagan systems and in the cheerless gloom of idolatry. No, it is incredible that in our case history will "repeat itself." The beacon that warns us of danger shines brightly upon our path-way, and though the darkness of war and the chaos of domestic tumult surround us, we will fix our eyes upon the Constitution, in the light of an unshaken faith that it will bring us safely through every difficulty,

"Onward, through the cave of night,
Boring with our signal light;
Though the sky is glooming o'er us,
We will trust the track before us."

Yes! "we will trust the track!" It was laid by careful hands; it rests upon the imperishable rock; it was made to bear the precious freight of a nation,—made to bear it as well when the sweet sunshine of peace beams upon it, as when the sulphurous clouds of war burst over and spend their fury against it. We need not fear the track. But, now and then, obstructions are placed upon it. Now and then it is buried beneath the land-slides of fanaticism or the scoriæ of civil feuds. Now and then there is a reckless, or unfaithful, engineer. But the track itself remains and will continue to exist, though mountains of error fall upon it, though the ashes and desolation of civil convulsion hide it from those of little faith. We can trust the track, but not those who would deviate from it. We cannot trust those who teach us to forsake the Constitution and seek political refuge in the dogma of the absolute sovereignty of the States, nor those who would build up a central tyranny upon the shifting sands of extra-Constitutional power. The one would lead to the inevitable disintegration of the Republic; the other would prove the worst species of despotism. Is it not strange that Americans should favor either of these things? Is it not passing strange that men cannot see and appreciate the wondrous beauty of our system in that it so clearly defines the orbit of Federal, as well as of State, Sovereignty? Nevertheless it is from the extreme State Sovereignty men, on the one hand, and from the advocates of a centralized national government on the other, that our country has been threatened, from the adoption of the Constitution until the present day. Nothing can be more certain than this: The Federal Government is supreme within its Constitutional sphere; beyond the limits of that sphere it has no authority; and whilst the States cannot encroach upon the powers of the Federal Government, all powers not delegated to it by the Constitution, or not prohibited by that instrument to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people. In the language of the great expounder of the Constitution, ours "is a popular representative government, with all the departments, and all the functions and organs, of such a government. But it is still a limited, a restrained, a severely guarded government. It exists under a written Constitution, and all that human wisdom could do, is done to define its powers and to prevent their abuse. It is placed in what was supposed to be the safest medium between dangerous authority on the one hand and debility and inefficiency on the other. That happy medium was found by the exercise of the greatest political sagacity, and the influence of the greatest good fortune. We cannot move the system either way, without the probability of hurtful change; and as experience has taught us its safety and usefulness, when left where it is, our duty is a plain one.

"It cannot be doubted that a system thus complicated, must be accompanied by more, or less, of danger, in every stage of its existence. It has not the simplicity of despotism. It is not a plain column, that stands self-poised and self-supported. Nor is it a loose, unfixed, irregular and undefined system of rule, which admits of constant and violent changes, without losing its character. But it is a balanced and guarded system; a system of checks and controls; a system in which powers are carefully delegated and as carefully limited; a system in which the symmetry of the parts is designed to produce an aggregate whole, which shall be favorable to personal liberty, favorable to public prosperity, and favorable to national glory."

Thus spoke the immortal Webster, and if we but adopt his enlightened and patriotic exposition of the theory of our government, all will be well. If we but cling to the Constitutional track, there can be no danger of running either into disintegration, or centralization. Oh! if we but cling to the track, we shall travel on forever upon the road of national prosperity.

The genuine patriot shuns extremes. He has learned the lesson of the "golden mean," and applies it strictly to his conduct as a citizen. He realizes, in all its fulness, the truth of the German adage, "Mittelmaas die beste straas." He remembers that our Constitution was the work of men who differed widely in their views of government, but who advanced each from his own stand-point, to meet the rest upon common ground. He knows that our system was the result of mutual concessions on the part of those who framed it, and that ultraism, whether it be centripetal, or centrifugal, has no warrant under it and is utterly foreign to its nature. But whilst he avoids and opposes those schemes of malignant reform which are inconsistent with the character of our government, or which threaten to overturn it, he believes in that sort of progress which educates and elevates the people, which brings to the nation, virtue, intelligence and prosperity, which while it does not disturb the public peace, pours wealth into the national treasury, lightens the burdens of taxation and conduces to the happiness and contentment of the citizen. Such a patriot is worthy of the name. Such was the character of those men who inaugurated and carried to a triumphant issue the war of the Revolution. Such were Hancock and Jefferson, Franklin and Rutledge, Hamilton and Madison, and such was the Pater Patriæ, the deathless Washington. Had the generations which succeeded them emulated the example of those illustrious men, had those who administered the laws, striven as zealously for the perpetuation of the Republic, as Hancock and his compeers labored to establish it, had statesmen of opposite views met upon common ground, for the common good, as Hamilton and Madison met, in short, had that spirit of mutual forbearance and that determination to bury faction beneath the necessity of the public weal, which ennobled the character of the authors of our government, animated and actuated their successors, we would never have been cursed with sectional jealousies, civil commotion, or internecine war. But alas! history will record that those grand models of patriotism and statesmanship, were soon forgotten; that sectional animosities drove them from their place in the American heart; that in spite of the noble example of those who founded the government, in spite of the solemn warning of Washington himself, political discord, partizan hate, and finally civil war, with all its untold horrors, became the lot of the American people. Oh! that we could blot the hateful stain from the historian's record! Oh! that pitying Heaven would sink the volume which records it, beneath the waters of eternal Lethe! But the stigma is ineffaceable and its blackness can only be softened by a future of peace and a complete restoration of friendship between those who were at enmity. Let, us then, leave to the historian the unhappy strife which so lately raged in our land. Let him tell of the causes which operated to produce it; let him trace the red track of the gigantic struggle; let him record the triumph of that banner which is the symbol of the Constitution; let him celebrate the deeds of those who, on many a bloody field, bore the oriflamme of victory; and let him not forget to write, as the redeeming characteristic of a fratricidal war, that the earth never drank the blood of braver men than those who fell in this sad and ensanguined conflict.

"As rolls the river into ocean,
In sable torrent wildly streaming,
As the sea-tide's opposing motion,
In azure column proudly gleaming,
Beats back the current many a rood,
In curling foam and mingling flood,
While eddying whirl, and breaking wave,
Roused by the blast of winter, rave;
Through sparkling spray, in thunder crash,
The lightnings of the waters flash,
In awful whiteness on the shore,
Thus—as the stream and ocean greet,
With waves that madden as they meet—
Thus joined the bands, whom mutual wrong,
And fate and fury drove along!"

Let it be for us this day to rejoice that we have seen the end of our first (may Heaven vouchsafe it to be our last) civil war. To-day four years ago, the cannon of Meade boomed from the heights of Gettysburg and the legions of Lee galloped to the charge in thundering squadrons. To-day four years ago, we sang carmen triumphale, for we knew that the soil of Pennsylvania was once more free from the foot of the invader. But to-day there is no sound of deep-mouthed cannon; to-day we sing no song of triumph; but we stretch our hands in the magnanimity of true men, saying, to the vanquished, Come back with us beneath the shelter of the old banner, come back and let us bury out of sight the festering corse of the dead past, come back and let us restore that Union which has given us national greatness and without which we can have neither internal peace, nor external safety!

Two years ago the flag of the South was furled forever. It went down amid the smoke of battle never to float again. But the States whose people revolted against the Federal authority, remain unrestored to their Constitutional relations to the government. There are to-day but twenty seven of the thirty seven States, represented in Congress. This condition of practical dis-Union, is, at present, our greatest danger. Billions of debt, an inflated currency, and the other inevitable results of a prolonged and bloody war, however crushing they appear, may be borne, but dis-Union, never! We need public confidence in the financial soundness of the country, as well as that soundness itself. We need commercial and social intercourse with the people of the vast agricultural South. We need the splendid revenues which that section, if once permitted to enjoy political quiet, will be sure to bring to the national treasury. But, above all, we need the speedy settlement, in accordance with the Constitution, of the vexed questions which have grown out of the war, so that the public mind may be free from the the disturbance of violent partizan agitation, and the danger of fresh feuds and new wars be averted from the near future. How shall these desirable ends be attained? How, but by the restoration of the ten States now unrepresented in the government, to their Constitutional relations to the Republic? It is not sufficient that the flag of the Union waves over the strongholds of the late rebellious South. It is not enough that the alarum of war has ceased and that opposition to the Federal Government has been transmuted, by force of arms, into abject submission. It remains for us to restore civil government to, or, rather, to remove the military duress by which civil government is restrained in, the States of the South. When this shall be accomplished, the arts of peace will flourish again; when this shall be consummated, the wheat-fields of Shenandoah once more will yield their golden harvests to the sickle, and the cotton-fields of Georgia fulfil the hopes of producer and consumer. Then, and not till then, will the sword be truly beaten into the ploughshare, the spear into the pruning-hook. Let us, then, turn our attention to the restoration of that portion of our country at present excluded from participation in the government. Let us forget all connected with our civil war, save the great central fact of a preserved Union and the memory of the heroes who fought and died in the struggle. And here let us pay a passing tribute to those who yielded up their lives in the wager of battle.

"How many a glorious name for us,
How many a story of fame for us,
They left! Would it not be a shame for us,
If their memory part
From our land and heart,
And a wrong to them and a blame for us?
No! No! No! They were brave for us,
And bright were the lives they gave for us,
The land they struggled to save for us,
Cannot forget
Its warriors yet,
Who sleep in many a grave for us!"

But how shall we do justice to the brave men who perished for the sake of their country? Whence shall we borrow the glowing language that befits their eulogy? Monuments may be erected in their honor, and their ashes gathered in gorgeous mausoleums, the epic page may burn in description of their deeds and the painter's canvas glow with the picture of the red conflict in which they fell, but all will fail to cancel the overwhelming debt of gratitude which the nation owes them. We cannot estimate the value of the sacrifice they made for us; we can only drop a tear to their memory and wish for them,

"In Heaven a home with the brave and blest,
A name in song and story,
And fame to shout with her brazen voice,
'Died on the Field of Glory.'"

But whilst we keep in remembrance the fallen brave, let us hasten to rebuild the waste places of our country; let us restore the Constiution as the supreme law of the land; let us banish faction and check innovation; and let us strive to make our government conform in spirit, as well as in letter, to that liberalism which knows no oppression for opinion's sake and which makes the title of American citizen synonymous with that of freeman. With our hands upon our hearts, with our eyes uplifted to heaven, let us, in humble imitation of those grand old patriots who, this day ninety-one years ago, announced the birth of a new nation, pledge "our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor," that, so help us God, we will stand by the Union of the States and the liberty of the citizen, against all opposition, whether from armed usurpation, or peaceful revolution.

THE DOOM OF THE WORLD.—What this change is to be, we dare not even conjecture; but we see in the heavens themselves some traces of destructive elemets, and some indication of their power. The fragments of broken planets, the descent of the meteoric stones on the globe, the wheeling comets, wielding their loose materials in our own satellite, the appearance of new stars, and the disappearance of others, are, as the solar furnace, the volcanic eruptions, all foreshadows of that impending convulsion to which the system of the world is doomed. Thus placed on a planet which is burned up, and under heavens which are to pass away; thus treading, as it were, on the cemeteries, and dwelling upon the mausoleums of former worlds, let us learn the lesson of humility and wisdom if we have not already been taught in the school of revelation.—North British Review.

A SWEET TEMPER.—No trait of character is more valuable in a woman than the possession of a sweet temper. Home can never be made happy without it. It is like the flowers that spring up in our pathway, reviving and cheering us. Let a man go home at night weary and worn by the toils of the day and how soothing is a word dictated by a good disposition? It is sunshine falling on his heart. He is happy, and the cares of life are forgotten. A sweet temper has a soothing influence over the mind of a whole family. Where it is found in the wife and mother, you observe kindness and love predominating over the natural feeling of a bad heart. Smiles, kind words, characterize the children and peace and love have their dwelling there. Study, then, to acquire and retain a sweet temper. It is more valuable than gold; it captivates more than beauty; and to the close of life it retains all its freshness and power.

A REMINISCENCE.—Oliver Cromwell was buried in Westminister Abbey, but after the restoration, by solemn act of Parliament, more barbarous than any private act of him they called the "usurper," his body, together with that of his son-in-law, Henry Ireton, Lord Deputy of Ireland and John Bradshaw, who presided at the trial of Charles I, was taken from his grave, conveyed upon sledges to Tyburn, and there hung at three several angles of the gallows until sunset. They were beheaded, the trunks thrown into a deep pit under the gallows, and their heads set upon poles on the top of Westminister Abbey.

A FABLE.
Not from Æsop.

Once upon a time there lived two brothers upon adjoining farms. The one was a large, stout, muscular man who looked as though he could whip his weight in wild-cats, and "didn't much deceive his looks." The other was small in stature, but his sinews were tough and wiry and his eye shot forth a glance of fire. For many years the two brothers lived side by side, in great harmony. Their substance increased, large families grew up around them, and they were really very prosperous and happy. In the course of time, however, there came to the farm of the big brother, a mischief-making fellow, sent by the mother of the two brothers who owned an island on the other side of the great deep, and who, for some reason or other, never did have much affection for her sons. This emissary hastened to tell the big brother, that the little fellow managed his farm very improperly, that he treated his laborers badly and that it was a disgrace to the big brother that he permitted such conduct in his neighbor. The result was that when the two brothers met, the subject was introduced by the big brother, and a dispute arose between them. The dispute soon became a serious quarrel and the quarrel, in due time, ended in blows. Both parties were enraged and fought like tigers. The little fellow was tough and spunky, but the weight and muscle of the big brother conquered in the end. Nevertheless, the fight lasted until the big brother was seriously crippled, whilst the little fellow was left for dead. The survivor at once took possession of his brother's estates, set over them his own dependents, and was about to proceed to manage them in his own way, when happening to look toward the prostrate form of his brother, he imagined that he perceived a faint glimmer of life in the supposed dead man's eyes. Fearful lest the latter might revive, and claim again the estates which he once possessed, the big fellow put his heel upon his prostrate brother's neck and crushed the life out of him forever.

The name of the big brother was North, that of the little one South.

HYPOCRISY BOILED DOWN.

The Radical leaders, after having deceived the soldiers with a bounty law which makes no provision for the payment of the bounties it proposes to give, thus insult the intelligence of the men whom they have cheated and are now seeking again to deceive:

"That the gratitude of the people to the soldiers and sailors, whose bravery met and overthrew the slaveholders' rebellion, should have repeated and emphatic expression; and that we heartily disapprove of and condemn the course of the Secretary of the Treasury, in postponing and ignoring the just claims of our brave defenders upon the bounty of the Government, awarded to them by the National Congress."

This language is found in the platform of the Radical party of this State. Words are very cheap and it is an easy matter to fawn and flatter, but why did not these glorious friends of the soldier denounce Congress, their own Congress, for not making provision for the payment of the additional bounties? Ah! there's the rub! The Secretary of the Treasury would willingly pay them, nay, he could not withhold payment, if he had the means wherewith to do it. And why is it that the treasury is exhausted? Soldiers, we will tell you! It is because the expenses of the Congressional Satraps who have been set up over the South, in order to Africanize that portion of the country, must be paid. It costs millions upon millions to carry out the Congressional plan of reconstruction, which is intended for no other purpose than to hand over the ten excluded States to the domination of negroes, so that the Radical party may retain its ascendancy. The Freedman's Bureau and the Reconstruction Suzerains must be supported. Soldiers, you can wait for your bounties till the Radicals make the negroes your political and social equals!—In view of these facts, (and stubborn facts they are) is not the above quoted resolution, a piece of the most infamous, shameless, and disgusting hypocrisy that ever emanated from the heart of man? Who can be deceived by it, nay, who will not join us in denouncing it as it deserves?

WHERE THEY STAND.

In the platform adopted by the late Radical State Convention, we find the following resolution:

"Resolved, That this Convention, speaking for the Republicans of Pennsylvania, unreservedly endorse the Reconstruction measures of the Thirty ninth and Fortieth Congresses, as based upon sound principles," &c., &c.

What are the principal features of the "Reconstruction measures of the Thirty Ninth and Fortieth Congresses?" Why, Universal Negro Suffrage and the disfranchisement of two thirds of the white people in the South! Republicans of Pennsylvania! Did this Convention really speak for you, when it endorsed such black and damnable work? It cannot be possible! You don't want ten States to be ruled by Negroes? You don't want African members of Congress, Governors, Judges, etc., etc.? If you do, you are the worst enemies this government ever had. If you do, you properly belong to the Radical party and fully deserve to share its infamy. But we cannot, will not, believe that you approve such wicked, malignant and devilish doctrines. You will repudiate them at the polls, for they have never, heretofore, formed a part of the Republican creed, and you are not bound, even by party ties, to sustain them.

BOUND TO SHINE.

That galvanized Copperhead who now tries to run the Radical machine in this county, the Honorable John Cessna, pushed himself into the late B. H. County Convention, as a delegate from Bedford borough. "Dad" is bound to shine, and as he was restrained in the State Convention by the prudent J. B., he determined to get off his thunder in the smaller body. He is progressing rapidly in the favor of the Radicals, having commenced his career among them as a candidate for Governor and got as far as a delegateship to a possible Representative Conference. Vive le Dad!

THE Radical B. H. Congress have passed a supplement to the supplementary Reconstruction Bill, and, we presume, that the white people of the South have their civil throats cut from ear to ear this time. The kingdom of New Dahomey will soon take the place of the abolished Southern States. All that is wanting to complete the radical plan, is to import a few thousand gorillas into the black dominion, and should Stanbery object to such a proceeding as not authorized by the Supplemental Supplementary Reconstruction Act, another session can easily be called to remedy the matter.

IN the Surratt case, the defence have thus far proved the principal witnesses for the prosecution to be a set of miserable liars and criminals and have also established the fact that Surratt was in Elmira, N. Y., on the day of the assassination. It is now shown that Weichman, upon whose testimony Mrs. Surratt was sent to the gallows, is an unnameable villain, and that he was the bosom friend and constant companion of Atzerodt, one of the conspirators. A pretty pet of Mr. Stanton's!

THE Radical B. H. County Convention was very severe upon one of the editors of the Inquirer, one of their resolutions calling "the earnest and deliberate attention and consideration of the tax-payers of Bedford county" "to the defalcation of collectors and others." Really this was the unkindest cut of all!

THE Radical B. H. County Convention recommend that the late District Attorney be brought back to assist them in fixing up the finances of the county. Of course; he would suit them exactly since he has adopted their principles.

WE have asked the Bedford Inquirer, several times, whether its editors and its party are in favor of the establishment of Negro Suffrage in Pennsylvania, and have received no answer. Is the Inquirer afraid to face the music?

ROBERT J. WALKER, himself a zealous supporter of the war, in his argument before the Supreme Court on the military bill, thus characterized it:

"I have gone through Egypt, Syria, Turkey in Asia and Turkey in Europe, and thousands of miles through Russia, and there was no such despotism in Africa, or Asia, or Turkey, or Russia, as that which was established by these acts. They all had courts of some description, and allowed a hearing and opportunity of defence. The sword was not the only arbiter. But here an act of Congress swept ten states out of existence, reduced them to a worse than territorial bondage, and subjected every one of them—ten millions of people, of all ages, sexes and colors—to the despotic will of a military commander."

The Radicals affected to sneer at this description of their pet measure when it was first uttered. Now they insist that it is exactly what Mr. Walker said it was, and hold a meeting of Congress to give it that effect!

—Mr. Shanks, of Indiana, applauds the butchery of Maximilian, and Mr. Tipton, of Kansas, advocates the offering of bounty for Indian scalps. These are representative men of the Radical party.

SHORTS---POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

JUDGE LUDLOW, of Philadelphia, has been nominated by the Philadelphia Bar, irrespective of party, for re-election to the Common Pleas Bench. The Judge is an uncompromising Democrat.

IMPEACHMENT is played out, used up, gone up a very small spout. A majority of the Judiciary Committee of the lower House of Congress, to whom the subject was referred, declare that they find no cause for it. How are the blusterers "blowed out!"

THE Cambria Democracy have renominated Col. J. P. Linton for Assembly, by acclamation.

THE Lancaster Express, a Radical sheet says that Thad Stevens had bought lots in several cemeteries, but finding that there were not "any of God's colored children" buried in them, he cancelled his purchases. A "copperhead" organ remarks that—"He seems to think as little of his grave as he does of his bed."

THE Democracy of Juniata county have selected Ezra D. Parker for the State Senate and H. P. M'Williams for Assembly, subject to the decision of the district conference.

MR. ROBINSON, M. C. from the Brooklyn, N. Y., district, who is himself a Fenian, said, the other day, on the floor of Congress, that the South suffers infinitely greater oppression than Ireland ever did.

AT an election for School Directors, in Lancaster city, the other day, the Democratic ticket was successful by 600 majority. The Intelligencer says that the city is good for 750 majority for Sharswood. The usual Democratic majority in that place, is about 200.

MORROW B. LOWRY, the ruffled shirt philosopher, has been re-nominated for State Senator, by the Radicals of Crawford county. He lacks only the endorsement of his own county, Erie, to make him the nominee of his party in the district.

THE MODEL JUDGE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

President Judge of the District Court for the City and County of Philadelphia.

BY DAVID PAUL BROWN, ESQ.

The Hon. George Sharswood was born on the 7th of July, 1810, and was graduated at the University of Pennsylvania, on the 31st of July, 1828, with the highest honors, delivering the Greek salutatory, and manifesting a scholarship, of which his unceasing industry had given an early earnest. In the month of August, of the same year, he became a student in the office of Mr. Joseph R. Ingersoll, and after a severe application to his studies, was admitted to practice on the 5th of September, 1831.

Even after Mr. Sharswood's admission, he still blended his classical with his professional duties, besides giving some attention to the modern languages, and it may be truly observed of him, that it has seldom happened that such young shoulders bore so wise a head.

He was not deficient in genius, but his great quality consisted in rigid and indefatigable labor. He was a model for a student. Always thoughtful, yet cheerful; modest and retiring in his manners, yet in a moment of exigency not deficient in just reliance upon himself. We do not think he could ever have been an effective advocate. The turn of his mind was too tranquil to enjoy or to endure the tumult, agitation, and excitement of jury trials. But in an argument to the court in banc, upon a point of law, few men of his years would have been his equal—cool calm, collected, he had full control of that abundant stock of knowledge which untiring perseverance and industry had enabled him to accumulate.

After remaining at the bar some five years, with about the usual share of professional business, but with bright hopes clustering round him, he was elected to the Legislature, on the 10th of October, 1837, where, it is sufficient to say, that he justified the most sanguine hopes and expectations of his constituents. On the 9th of October, 1838, he became one of the Select Council, and on the 29th of June, 1841, was appointed secretary of the investigating committee of the stockholders of the Bank of the United States. On the 12th of October, 1841, he was elected again to the Legislature, and continued in that body by another election, on the 11th of October, 1842. Scarcely had his legislative services terminated, when, on the 8th of April, in the year 1845, he received the appointment of Judge of the District Court for the City and County of Philadelphia, and on the 1st of February, in the year eighteen hundred and forty-eight, became its President. On the 14th of October, 1851, under the new Constitution, he was elected by a large majority to the same judicial position, which he had previously held from the Executive and Senate of the State. He was commissioned on the 1st of December, 1851.

In all those varied and highly honorable and responsible employments, it may be justly said, that he manifested the most abundant capacity and fitness for the duties imposed upon him. But he more especially shone in his judicial qualifications. Take him for all in all, at his time of life, no bench in Pennsylvania has borne a more unblemished, more competent, or more exemplary incumbent. He is a man of kind, liberal, and honorable feelings, just such a man as you might suppose was born to be judge; and if he holds out as he begun, and Heaven and his constituents continue him to his "threescore years and ten," we are mistaken, or he will furnish the best practical proof of the folly of legislating judges out of office, at the expiration of sixty years.

Since his presidency in the District Court, Judge Sharswood has been chosen Professor of Law in the Pennsylvania University, where he is an invaluable acquisition. Apart from this duty he is engaged in delivering a course of elaborate lectures before the Commercial Institute. And when it is remembered that the court in which he presides sits ten months in a year, and is continuously and laboriously occupied during all that time, in every diversity of trials, certainly no better commentary can be required upon his exhaustless patience and energy of character.

But to glance from the mental to the personal, Judge Sharswood is about five feet ten inches high, with a slight stoop of the shoulders, attributable, probably to his studious pursuits throughout life. He has patience, and that—without which every thing else is nothing—uncompromising honesty. The honesty of a Judge, however, is hardly necessary to be referred to, as without it, no man is to be considered a judge.—He is only a pageant in the temple of justice.

Judge Sharswood, may be cited in support of our theory, that Judges—all other qualifications being equal—taken from the bar before they have been extensively engaged in practice, generally discharge their duties more satisfactorily than those who are hackneyed in litigation, and therefore take partial or prejudiced views of a case. Unless opposite sides of the issue exhibit great inequality in merit and strength, we defy any man to preceive, from the deportment of the judge, to what result his mind inclines. This is a great virtue in a judicial officer—nothing is so unbecoming in authority, as to descend from its high calling into the arena of professional degladiation, and advance gratuitous opinions, and join in a conflict between out-posts, before the mind entirely grasps the merits of the controversy. Counsel may be less observant of what they say or do, but a judge should permit no word to escape his lips during the progress of a trial, that may tend to bias the jury, or throw reproach upon one party or the other. Words, as we have elsewhere said, are things, and judicial words are very opertive, if not controlling things, upon the minds of the "sworn twelve," who, having for the most part but little light in themselves, look anxiously for the least glimmering of it that may be shed from the bench, and sometimes even convert that light into darkness.

Judge Sharswood puts his cases, of course, very fairly to a jury; he seldom intrenches upon their rights to determine upon the law, but when he does he does it with great clearness, precision, and cogency, and so as to be comprehended by any man of the most ordinary intelligence. His thoughts are not only perspicuous, but the language in which they are clothed is so plain and unaffected as to prevent all equivocation or misapprehension.

NEGROES TO GET ONE DOLLAR EVERY TIME THEY VOTE.—One of our aldermen states that one day while the reigstration of colored voters was going on, he was present when two colored men came in for their papers. One got them and retired without remark. The other stood about as if waiting for something. "You have got your papers, what do you want now?" was asked by some one. "Well, you see dey charged me with a dollar to go into the' siety, de oder day, an' told me when I votes I should get a dollar back every time, and I wants my dollars now." A CARD
AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY, Of Waltham, Mass.

This Company beg leave to inform the public that they commenced operations in 1850, and their factory now covers four acres of ground, and has cost more than a million dollars, and employs over 700 operatives. They produce 75,000 Watches a year, and make and sell not less than one half of all the watches sold in the United States.

The difference between their manufacture and the European, is briefly this: European Watches are made almost entirely by hand, and the result is of necessity a lack of that uniformity, which is indispensable to correct time-keeping. Both the eye and the hand of the most skillful operative must vary. But it is a fact that, except watches of the higher grades, European watches are the product of the cheapest labor of Switzerland, and the result is the worthless Ancres. Lepines and so called Patent Levers—which soon cost more in attempted repairs, than their original price. Common workmen, boys and women, buy the rough separate parts of these watches from various factories, polish and put them together, and take them to the nearest watch merchant, who stamps and engraves them with any name or brand that may be ordered.

HOW AMERICAN WATCHES ARE MADE.

The American Waltham Watch is made by no such uncertain process—and by no such incompetent workmen. All the Company's operations, from the reception of the raw materials to the completion of the Watch, are carried on under one roof, and under one skillful and competent direction. But the great distinguished feature of their Watches, is the fact that their several parts are all made by the finest, the most perfect and delicate machinery ever brought to the aid of human industry. Every one of the more than a hundred parts of every watch is made by a machine—that infallibly reproduces every succeeding part with the most unvarying accuracy. It was only necessary to make one perfect watch of any particular style and then to adjust the hundred machines necessary to reproduce every part of that watch, and it follows that every succeeding watch must be like it.

The Company respectfully submit their watches on their merits only. They claim to make

by their improved mechanical processes than can be made under the old-fashioned handicraft system. They manufacture watches of every grade, from a good, low priced, and substantial article in solid silver hunting cases, to the finest chronometer; and also ladies' watches in plain gold or the finest enameled and jeweled cases; but the indispensable requisite of all their watches is that they shall be GOOD TIME-KEEPERS. It should be remembered that except their single lowest grade named "Home Watch Company, Boston," ALL WATCHES made by them by a special certificate, and this warrantee is good at all times against the Company or its agents.

ARE FULLY WARRANTED

ROBBINS & APPLETON,

THE GREATEST PAIN-RELIEVER IN THE WORLD.—Warranted superior to any other, or no pay, for the cure of Chronic Rheumatism, Toothache, Headache, Sore Throat, Mumps, Burns, Cuts, Insect stings, Pains in the Back, Chest, and Limbs, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings; also, to take internally for Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Spasms, Sea Sickness, Vomiting, and Croup. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, if used according to the directions, and never fails, as thousands can attest. It was first introduced in 1847, and now millions of bottles are annually sold. Every one who has once used it, continues to do so, and recommend it to their friends as the most valuable medicine extant. Certificates enough to fill a dozen newspapers, have been received by Dr. Tobias. His medicine, the Venetian Liniment, will do all that is stated, and more. No one will regret trying it. Those residing at a distance from a physician, will find it a reliable medicine to have on hand in case of accidents. Ask for Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment, and take no other. Price 50 cents and $1. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC.—This medicine, invented by Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, is intended to dissolve the food and make it into chyle, the first process of digestion. By cleansing the stomach with Schenck's Mandrake Pills, the Tonic soon restores the appetite, and food that could not be eaten before using it will be easily digested.

Consumption cannot be cured by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup unless the stomach and liver is made healthy and the appetite restored, hence the Tonic and Pills are required in nearly every case of consumption. A half dozen bottles of the SEAWEED TONIC, and three or four boxes of the MANDRAKE PILLS will cure any ordinary case of dyspepsia.

Dr. Schenck makes professional visits in New York, Boston, and at his principal office in Philadelphia every week. See daily papers of each place, or his pamphlet on consumption, for his days of visitation.

Please observe, when purchasing, that the two likenesses of the Doctor, one when in the last stage of consumption, and the other as he now is, in perfect health, are on the Government stamp.

Sold by all druggists and dealers; price $1 50 per bottle, or $7 50 the half dozen. All letters for advice should be addressed to Dr. Schenck's principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

ADVERTISING is the oil which wise tradesmen put in their lamps—that's all.

ARRIVAL OF THE GOVERNOR.—His Excellency, Governor Geary, arrived at the Springs, on Tuesday night last.

ON the 21st of August next three of Jupiter's moons will be in eclipse. Jupiter has four moons. What a place for moonlight.

AT THE MENGEL HOUSE.—Dr. Morrison, of Greensburg, and H. P. Laird, Esq., of the bar of that place, are at present stopping at the Mengel House.

ATTHESPRINGS.—Capt. Alex. Lloyd and Maj. Williams, of Hollidaysburg, have been staying at the Springs, for some weeks. Their friends will be glad to learn that their health is improving SOMEBODY says "a wife should be like a roasted lamb—tender and nicely dressed." So should husbands. And the place for them to get nicely dressed is at the fashionable Clothing Bazaar of R. W. Berkstresser & Co., in this place.

KILLED BY THE INDIANS.—Mr. Edward Dively, formerly a merchant at Grantsville, Allegany county, Md., but more recently a resident of Kansas, was lately murdered by the Cheyenne Indians, while traveling over the plains. —Baltimore Sun.

SNAIX.—The Bellefonte "Watchman" (extra) says that five rattlesnakes some of them containing twelve rattles, were killed at Walker's lumber camp, on Beech Creek, on Thursday last (the 27 ult.,) and over twenty-five that had been raked from among the rocks got away.

SLIM.—But fifteen of the twenty four election districts were represented in the Radical B. H. County Convention held in this place, on the 4th inst. We are glad to note that some Republicans are unwilling to desecrate the anniversary of American Independence, by holding party conventions on that sacred day.

DULL TIMES, says the Penn Yan Express, are always the best for advertisers. Why? Because when money is tight and people are forced to economize, they always read the advertiments to ascertain who sells the cheapest, and where they can trade to the best advantage.

THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS.—The late Democratic Convention, at Harrisburg, recommended that all Democrats make vigorous efforts to increase the circulation of Democratic journals throughout the land, and also to give them their individual support and patronage, as the power and success of the Democratic party depends on the character and efficiency of the Democratic newspaper press.

BEDFORD SPRINGS.—Visitors are beginning to come in more rapidly at the Springs. There is prospect of a large attendance. The Springs are kept better this season than ever before, and visitors cannot fail to be pleased. The gentlemanly superintendent, Col. Allen, and his assistants Messrs. Hoopes, Sansom and others, are determined to leave nothing undone to make their guests comfortable.

HARVEST.—The farmers of this section have been very busy harvesting their wheat crop during the past two weeks. They are now about finishing the work, and we hear from every quarter, that the yield of wheat is unprecedented. This will be good news to every body and especially to the laboring classes. Let us rejoice that another year of plenty has been vouchsafed us, and that not only has famine been averted from our land, but we are able to assist in feeding the poor and destitute of other countries.

THE ancients proclaimed that Mermaids, Nymphs, Naiads, and the Graces, had long flowing tresses which made them envied by their sisters of earth. But they arose out of the sea foam or bathed in fountains reached by no mortal hands and kept their locks of dewy softness, dark and lustrous, and thus had no need of Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia which is doing the same thing for thousands of people in our day.

DEMOREST'S MONTHLY.—No other fashion and literary magazine in existence has made such rapid strides in popular favor as this. The current number now before us speaks for itself, as to the causes which have brought about such flattering results. It is full of fresh, attractive and useful matter, specially interesting to ladies and households. The fashion department is complete—three times as full as that of any other magazine—and contains abundance of sensible, practical information, invaluable to those living at a distance from the Metropolis. The illustrations are beautiful and numerous—the tone of the literary articles high—and, in fact, the entire contents are greatly above the average, from first to last. We do not wonder that ladies, generally, declare they "could not do without it." Three dollars per annum, with a premium. Address, W. JENNINGS DEMOREST, 473 Broadway, New York.

LAMENTABLE ACCIDENT ON THE FOURTH.—A most lamentable accident occurred here early on the morning of the Fourth. A number of our young men were engaged on Cemetery Hill in firing a salute, when the gun discharged prematurely, resulting in terrible injury to Mr. John Atwell, who was at the moment engaged in ramming down the charge. His left hand was torn entirely from the arm, and his body thrown about eighteen feet from the muzzle of the-gun, inflicting shocking bruises and burns. He was at once brought to town (to the residence of Mr. Jacob Sheads,) and medical aid summoned. Drs. O'Neil, Horner and Huber were promptly on the spot, and, after examination and consultation, concluded to amputate the arm above the elbow, which was accordingly done. The injured man is now doing as well as could be expected, and is receiving every possible attention, Mr. Sheads and family, as well as citizens generally, manifesting the warmest solicitude for his comfort.

Mr. Atwell has been among us for several years, and proven himself a correct, industrious and worthy young man. He is a marble cutter by trade, having recently finished a very creditable apprenticeship with Mr. Cannon. The case is one of the saddest, and we are glad to hear that a movement is on foot to manifest sympathy by more than mere words.

How it happened that the gun discharged prematurely is altogether a mystery. The piece was in most careful hands —never more so. They had nearly all served in the army, and engaged in cannon drill for several days before the Fourth, to avoid the possibility of accident.

It is confidently thought that Mr. Atwell's vigorous constitution, with the careful nursing and attention he is receiving, will insure his recovery.—God grant it!—Gettysburg Compiler.

FOLLY—To try to make a living by farming without the right kind of tools—to wait till your neighbor is done plowing to borrow or hire his plow—to wait till your neighbor has worked his corn, to borrow his shovel plow to cultivate your sickly crop, or what is greater folly than all, after preparing your ground, to depend on your neighbor for his drill, when every sensible farmer knows that the earlier grain is sown the better. Own a drill yourself, even if you have to mortgage your farm to get it. It will clear itself in one year. More people are kept poor by being too stingy and too close and timid than by being extravagant. Whoever heard of the Sheriff selling out a man who owned a good grain drill? A Gum Roller Drill would bring more at sheriff 's sale anyhow than the agents ask.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF PIANOS!—Whereas, certain unreliable and unprincipled individuals have been visiting my patrons, representing themselves as partners of mine, or sent by me to tune pianos, I hereby give notice that all such are "tinkers" and impostors. The undersigned will visit Bedford regularly, in the months of November, December, and June or July of each year, and endeavor to maintain his reputation in person. Those who may desire reference as to my capability in tuning and repairing pianos are referred to all of the celebrated piano manufacturers in the U. S.

PARIS, June 27, 1867.—At the Paris Exposition, the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine has been awarded the only Gold Medal for superiority as a Sewing Machine for general purposes, over eighty-two competitors. Howe received a Gold Medal as an inventor, not for machines. The sewing machine interest was fully represented at Paris, every machine of any prominence before the world being on exhibition, making this the greatest triumph ever achieved by any sewing machine, and certainly entitles the Wheeler & Wilson to the enviable position it has so long held, the best sewing machine in the world. See advt. in another column.

TO SAVE ICE.—A German chemist publishes the following simple method of preserving small quantities of ice, which he has practiced with success. Put the ice into a deep dish, cover it with a plate and place the dish on a pillow stuffed with feathers, and cover the top with another pillow carefully, by this means excluding the external air. Feathers are well known non-conductors of heat, and in consequence the ice is preserved from melting. A friend states that he has thus preserved six pounds of ice for eight days. The plan is simple and within the reach of every household.

CROUP.—As many children are troubled with croup, we publish the following remedy, which is said to be reliable: Wring a linen cloth—cotton will do but linen is preferable—out of cold water, fold it so as to make several thicknesses, and place it upon the child's throat and chest, then fold a dry flannel and wrap carefully over it. Warm the child's feet—with hot stones if necessary—and cover with plenty of bed clothes, and let it go to sleep, you cannot perceive, when it wakes, that it has even a cold. It acts like a charm.

In every daily walk of life,
How many flies I see;
They bother husband and wife,
And also bother me.
The day that flies were born to me—
Oh, mercy me, what shall I do?
Why, go to J. L. Lewis' drug store, get a sheet of "Fly Paper," which slays them right and left.

American Manufactures.—The American Watch Company of Waltham, Mass.

OUR readers know that the best mechanism of the best manufactories of this country is unsurpassed anywhere in the world. The genius of American inventors and mechanics produced the cotton-gin, the mechanical reaper and mower, the sewing machine, the best telegraphic instruments, and last, but not least, the wonderful machinery of the American Watch Company of Waltham, Mass., a mechanism that takes hold of the raw material—the brass and steel, and gold, and precious stones, and under competent direction turns out that daily wonder and necessity—a perfect time-keeper.

Beginning in 1850 in a very moderate way, but with the determination to make none but thoroughly good watches, the Company have continued to enlarge their works from year to year, (as they were unable to supply the demand,) until now they manufacture about one-half of all the watches sold in the United States. Their factory covers over three acres of ground, and as an illustration of its extent, we may mention that it is supplied with over sixty miles of iron pipes. These watches have proved so reliable that several of the railways of the country now furnish them as a part of their equipment; and while recommending other lines to adopt the same precaution against accidents, the editor of the Boston Railway Times remarks: "We have carried one of these watches for the past four years, and although it has had to submit to rough usage in camp life, horseback riding, &c., we do not hesitate to say that it is the best timekeeper and less expensive to keep in order than any watch we ever carried." The Company's success has stimulated the manufacture and importance of many worthless counterfeits, so that buyers should be careful to see that they obtain the genuine American watch made at Waltham.

MATRIMONIAL QUESTION.—A young man asked an old gentleman for his daughter in marriage. The answer was, go into the orchard and bring in a parcel of apples. Give me one-half of the whole number, and to the mother one-half of the balance and half an apple over, and to the daughter one-half of the remainder and half an apple over and have one left for yourself without cutting an apple, then if she is willing you can have her. He solved the question and how many did he bring?

J. W. BRADLEY'S
CELEBRATED PATENT
DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE SPRING)
SKIRT.
The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the DUPLEX ELLIPTIC SKIRT will be experienced particularly in crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring Skirt.
A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.
They will not bend or break like the single spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered: preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.
The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the STANDARD SKIRT of the Fashionable World!
To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz. superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, inquire for
J. W. BRADLEY'S DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, or Double Spring Skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.
CAUTION —To guard against imposition, be particular to notice that Skirts offered as "DUPLEX" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—☞none others are genuine. Also notice that every Hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other Skirt.
For sale in all stores where first class Skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere. Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent,

GRAND CONCERTS IN AID OF THE MASONIC HALL AND ASYLUM FUND.—The object of these Concerts is to raise funds to build a Masonic Hall in the city of New York, commensurate with the wants of the fraternity, and to erect an Asylum for decayed Masons and the indigent and infirm widows of Masons and their orphans. A large fund has been collected for this purpose, but more is needed, which it is believed will be generously and promptly given by the charitable public, and those immediately interested in the welfare of the Order.
The Management take great pleasure in announcing that their Sixth and last Grand Musical Entertainment will take place at Jones' Wood, on TUESDAY, JULY 30th, commencing at 1 o'clock, P. M., and will be immediately followed by the Grand Distribution of Presents.
OFFICE OF THE GRAND MASTER OF MASONS,
OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK,
New York, January 10, 1867.
BRO. G. W. HOLMES—My Dear Sir—Yours of the 9th instant has been received. In reply I can only state that any enterprise which may be honorably and conscientiously conducted, in aid of the Masonic Hall and Asylum Fund of the State of New York, will receive not only my unqualified approbation, but my zealous co-operation. That your enterprise will be conducted with fidelity to your promises I have no doubt, judging from the references which you have given. While I say this, I desire still to declare to you that any effort, no matter how sacred may be the end sought to be achieved, that leads to any violation of the laws of the State, should not be permitted. Let those laws be held in strict respect, a blessing will surely follow, and you will receive thanks of thousands. Thanking you for your kind remembrance of the widows and orphans of our craft, I am
Truly and fraternally yours,
ROBERT D. HOLMES, G. Master.

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requisite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with conscientious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, THE WORLD will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of THE WORLD, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, THE WORLD will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the THE WORLD prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The WEEKLY WORLD, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York ARGUS has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; all together composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
2. A page or more reserved for entertaining Fireside Reading for the Family circle, embracing the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc., and a page for the Discussion of all Prominent Topics of general interest, political agricultural, financial, literary, etc.
3. Its Digest of the News is not, like most weeklies, a mere waste-basket of the Daily; only matters of interest and importance are chosen from the Daily, while the mass of its contents are prepared especially for the Weekly.
In every postoffice district there should be found some active, public spirited Democrat, who will confer a benefit upon us, his neighbors, and the cause, by counseling with his Democratic friends and making a determined effort to form as large a club as possible for the WEEKLY WORLD.
The SEMI-WEEKLY WORLD is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, which, by omitting a great mass of city advertisements from the Daily, contains all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market news, cattle market and provision reports, and a fresh and entertaining miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.
The DAILY WORLD affords a complete compendium of, and commentary upon, the news of every day.
